

The wait for Sky is over with Shared Dish technology

Do residents in your developments complain about the lack of choice in television solutions? Do you want to offer your residents Sky TV but don't or can't allow lots of individual dishes?

Thanks to Shared Dish systems from Sky Homes Ireland, you can arrange for the full range of Sky services to be made available to your residents.....and in many instances this is free of charge to both you and your residents!

Residents of apartments often suffer from being unable to access the same products and services as owners of traditional homes. Sky's Shared Dish solutions will ensure that Sky services are no longer restricted to just those in houses.

We would be delighted to discuss the options available to you for your developments. Why not call us today to discover how simple it could be to make your development Sky-ready?
